

Hostage Crisis Negotiations Level II

June 21-25 or Dec. 6-10 | IPTM/University of North Florida Jacksonville, Florida

This course will further enhance the knowledge and skills you acquired in IPTM's Level I course. As advanced negotiation concepts are introduced, the primary focus shifts to team building and team roles and responsibilities. We will also take an in-depth look at a subject's psychological state and examine methods to de-escalate situations involving subjects displaying psychosis/psychotic behavior and schizoid affective disorders, domestic violence and the cycle of violence, paranoid personality types and avoidance/dependent personality disorders to achieve cooperation.

Communication techniques are the primary means of event resolution. A continual study and practice of communication skills developed during the basic course of training will be enhanced. Developing trust and empathy between the subject and negotiator, de-escalation, appropriate listening and responsive techniques will be integral parts of the training.

Uniquely challenging events for responders and negotiators – such as murder/suicide, suicide-by-cop, locational suicidal activity, planned stand-offs, annihilators and domestic violence crises – and explore methods for resolution will be discussed. You will have an opportunity to practice and advance your negotiation skills with more complex scenario-based practical exercises, including negotiation problems, team driven training, use of negotiation equipment and managing a crisis event.
